Report on Service and Neighborhood Safety

The Sheriff's Office has been sending out Customer Satisfaction Surveys to victims of crime for the past year and a half. The goal is to determine how citizens feel about the quality of service they received from the time they called in their request through the time they were assisted by an officer.

The survey also asks about the quality of life they feel they have in their neighborhoods in terms of its safety. In 2007, over 87% of the people surveyed felt their neighborhood is very safe to reasonably safe. Together with information gathered during community meetings, this information helps the Sheriff's Office work with community members to address areas of concern in the community.

Mental Health Care Services for Inmates

The Coconino County Sheriff's Office provides proactive mental health care for inmates. The Detention Facility contracts with Correctional Healthcare Management (CHM) to provide mental health treatment to inmates. A professional mental health clinician provides evaluations. Inmates who are on psychiatric medications are assessed weekly by a psychiatric nurse practitioner. Crisis evaluations are also provided for inmates with suicidal tendencies.

The mental health clinician and the nurse practitioner work together in a coordinated effort to educate the inmates on how to effectively integrate coping techniques when facing life's challenges inside and outside of the jail in an attempt to reduce the use of psychiatric medications used to mask ongoing symptoms that require self awareness through therapeutic intervention. The mental health team also works to coordinate care for inmates requesting substance abuse treatment with the in custody treatment program known as the EXODUS program. Upon release from the jail, the inmates are referred to other service providers in the community for ongoing treatment and care.

Summer Wolfe is a licensed Mental Health Professional who works for CHM to provide mental health services to our inmates. Summer obtained her Master's degree in Counseling and Psychology from Prescott College. Summer previously served as the inmate liaison between the Jail and the Guidance Center and has worked as a Crisis Counselor. Summer brings with her much experience in working in the jail setting and was a Detention Officer in the Jail for approximately ten years.

Congratulations to Our Employees – Leadership & Excellence

The Sheriff's Office is committed to staff development and training. We are very pleased when employees chose to pursue career advancement within our agency, and we are dedicated to providing these opportunities for them.

Congratulations to Roddy Begay who tested for and transferred to the position of Detention Officer I on February 10, 2008. Roddy was previously a Detention Support Specialist. As a new Detention Officer I, Roddy will have regular contact with the inmates and work with other detention officers in maintaining the safety and physical security of the Jail Facility. Detention Officer I responsibilities include supervising the movement and activities of inmates in the facility and conducting inspections. To prepare for these duties, all Detention Officers must successfully complete an Arizona Detention Association certified Detention Officers Academy. The Coconino County Sheriff's Office and the Coconino Community College (CCC) have partnered to offer an accredited academy. Cadets obtain 13 credit hours and attend six weeks of intense training that combines academic, tactical, physical fitness, and team building.

Congratulations to Zachary Delphia, Jacob Moreno, and Corey Ringenberg who tested for and promoted from Detention Officer I to Detention Officer II on February 24, 2008. As Detention Officer II's, these individuals have shown the ability to take another level of responsibility in terms of the safety and security of the facility and inmates. Detention Officer II's also may transport inmates outside of the facility to court, the hospital, or other facilities. In this role, they also carry firearms under certain conditions and go through regular firearms training and qualifications.

Congratulations also to Mike Sifling who was promoted from Corporal to Sergeant on February 10, 2008. Mike has been with the Coconino County Sheriff's Office since May 1995. During his tenure he served as a Detention Officer I, Detention Officer II, Deputy, Detective, and Corporal. While in the Criminal Investigations Unit, he supervised the Domestic Violence Unit for two years. In Patrol, he served as the Kachina Community Deputy, Field Training Officer, DARE Instructor, and most recently as supervisor of the Community Policing Squad. These positions afforded him a breadth of experiences, including supervision and leadership, knowledge of inmate relations and jail security and operations, investigative techniques, and public education and outreach. Mike has a strong Service to Community philosophy and brings with him much expertise.

Crowds in the old downtown area reached the tens of thousands with high profile outdoor concerts performed by "Snoop Dog" and "Kid Rock."
